

Stephanie wants to keep you updated on some of the work she has been doing on your behalf. The year is already proving to be a busy and exciting one as Stephanie enjoyed spending time in the riding during the House of Commons recess. Among other commitments, she met with constituents, attended community events, and participated in consultations (more details below).

Lisa Rosenberg of the United Nations Association in Canada shared some exciting clean tech startups within the Green Corps program (photo at top right). Stephanie was pleased to learn more about how the Program is working with the oil and gas industry, and about the meaningful long-term employment it's creating for students. She will be discussing this with her Conservative colleagues.

The Chamber of the House of Commons has officially moved to a new home while Centre Block is being removed. On January 28th Parliament resumed in West Block (photo at right courtesy of @HoCSpeaker) where it is expected to remain for at least the next decade. You can watch Stephanie in Question Period and other House of Commons proceedings on CPAC. (<http://www.cpac.ca>).

ABOVE: Stephanie joined her colleague MP Erin O'Toole, the Official Opposition Shadow Minister for Foreign Affairs, at a press conference in early January where they pressured the Liberals to take action against the retaliatory detainment of Canadian citizens in China. As a former diplomat Stephanie is well-versed in the policies and procedures which would be followed in situations such as these.

AROUND CALGARY MIDNAPORE AND ALBERTA

PHOTOS: (RIGHT) Executive Director Taner Kocyigit, Adem Atlı, and Ufuk Dogan of the Intercultural Dialogue Institute shared their concerns regarding the lack of democracy and the struggle for freedom in Turkey, and briefed Stephanie on their efforts to promote peace in Calgary. (BOTTOM RIGHT) Hundreds of Albertans attended recent open house events in Edmonton, Red Deer, and Calgary. It was an excellent opportunity for constituents to engage directly with Members of Parliament about the issues that matter most to them. Thank you to all attendees for bringing your concerns front and centre. (BELOW) Stephanie appreciated the opportunity to meet with three Calgary Midnapore Yazidi families. She heard about the daily challenges they face as refugees: language barriers; employment; and, being separated from their family members who still remain in camps. Stephanie took the opportunity to share information on Canada's system of government, helping these new Canadians understand how they are represented and some of the resources available to them.
